The arrest was made upon the morning is now a lieutenant at the West Lake street police station and was for a time ector. Bartnett was going north Wood street, when he heard men behind him. He stopped the men and asked where they were going. They said they were going home. Hartnett then asked one of the men, who was later identified as Keating, what his name was. John Kelly.

"What is your name?" asked Hartnett of the other man. 'Fred Baker." was the reply.

The man giving the name of Baker opened his coat as he spoke and Hartnett caught sight of a revolver. He at once struck the man across the face with his club, knocking him senseless. Keating erned and ran, but was brought to a half Hartnett's threat to shoot him if he

According to the story printed by the Journal, Hartnett waited until the man who was afterwards declared to be Moy-er recovered and then marched both men to the patrol box at Wood and Madison streets, where he was joined by Patrolman Thomas Hennesy, who is still con-nected with the Lake Street station. Here Keating made an attempt to escape, but was recaptured. Both men were then taken to the Lake Street station. There, according to the Journal, Moyer first gave the name of Fred Baker, and then said his name was Charles Moyer. Jan. 26, 1886, the men were sentenced to Joliet. Keating for two years and Moyer for one year. The charge on which the sentence was based was the burglary of Larson's clothing store at 721 West Lake street,
Lieutenant Hartnett today corroborated

all of the facts given above and said that he had been told afterward that Moyer had declared that had Hartnett been a little slower with his club he would have been kifled.

Story of Policeman.

Hartnett said today: "Moyer used to amuse himself in saloons by shooting pool balls into the pockets with his revolver, and he had the general reputation at that time of being a bad man."

Denver, May 10.—The story that the Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, served a term in the Joliet penitentiary for burgiary, is discredited at the federation headquarters in this city. C. E. Mahoney, vice president and acting president, said he had no record of Mr. Moyer's entire career, but was positive that the man who served a term in the Joliet penitentiary was not the man who is now president of the Western Federation of Miners.

Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who is about to be tried at Boise, Ida., for complicity in the killing of former Governor Steunenberg, served as a convict in the Joliet penitentiary in this state in 1886 and 1887. The date of his discharge is said to have been Jan. 4, 1887.

According to the Journal, Moyer was sentenced from Cook county on Feb. 4, 1886, to serve one year for burglary. The date of his discharge is given as Jan. 4, 1887.

Keyects an impartial Jury.

Mr. Richardson, one of Haywood's leading county and reports purporting to come from authentic sources of probable trouble such as an attack on the jail or an attempt to spirit away some of the chief witnesses for the prosecution. The proceedings in the court room yesterday did much to dissipate this. There was a spirit of give and take. A joke from one or another of counsel or a laugh caused by the answer of a talesman acted as safety valves, and before the day was over the strain was relieved and every one breathed easier.

Mr. Richardson, one of Haywood's leading counsel, said today:
"We expect the sheriff will select his venire with fairness and with care so as to enable us to secure an impartial jury. If the right class of men is selected we will not take a long time to secure a
